OLGA KOLESNIK

I would call myself a Contemporary Colourist, an artist who likes to paint with powerful strong colours. I don't see the world through dark tinted sunglasses. I would rather exaggerate a colour, than to imitate greyed muted colour and use the colour that works, than the colour that's 'really there'.

My works explore communication between bold, vibrant, energetic bright colours and human emotions. I believe that our conversation with colours works both ways. They influence our feelings and, the other way around, our mood or personality dictates what colours we dislike, love or choose.

Olga is a visual artist and designer from Sydney, Australia. Her striking designs are a feast for those who love bold, rich colours. They are vivid pop-folk-ethnic-graffiti-cloisonné inspired and out to make a statement. She creates them using a combination of hand-painted artworks with computer-generated backgrounds and geometric patterns – a fusion of art and digital technology.

Olga is a true contemporary Colour Pop Queen. She magically twists, manipulates and shapes ordinary objects into something original and exiting. The vibrant hues give her designs some fresh and youthful energy.

Olga's attractive and eye-catching collections feature a real explosion of colour. In some of the collections the bright motifs and elements of her art, put on a balanced and toned down background, are used just as tasteful accents that make these designs pop.
