TONY EDWARDS

FINE ARTS PHOTOGRAPHER

AS I SEE IT

T O N Y E D W A R D S

I was born in Bankstown, NSW, though to be honest I am a product of Sydney as I lived in 23 different houses before I turned 18. I have lived everywhere from western suburbs to the North Shore of Sydney, from the Blue Mountains to the Hills District. I feel that I am a true gypsy of the city of Sydney.

I now call the city of Blacktown my home. Living in the western suburbs of Sydney allows for a mixing of diverse cultures which in turn feeds my creative spirit. Working as a Fine Arts Photographer in Western Sydney and in particular Blacktown is a very rewarding experience.

From the earliest age I remember 'seeing' the work I wanted to make long before it was started. This gift of visualisation has not only enhanced my photography but has helped to shape it. While I was not a great artist when it came to drawing or painting I loved to create with tactile materials. At the same time photography was always a thing that I just 'did'. I was the kid with the camera. Back in the late 1960s or early 1970s I had point and shoot cameras or Polaroid cameras. It wasn't until my teens that I discovered the true joy of 35mm SLR photography - my love of tactility was transferred to the tools of the trade and I developed an obsession with image-making.

It was during these formative years that mental illness also became part of my life. My illness started at around the age of 7 and has been a life-long companion. While there is a belief that artistic ability and mental illness are correlated sometimes I work to express this pain and at other times it is in spite of it. All art is an expression of thoughts, feelings, and emotions - my art is filtered through the pain of my daily struggle. The greatest counter to my illness is my drive, passion, and desire to create every single day.
