Artist Note:

When i was younger, I turned to art to build my self esteem, to escape and to most importantly try and connect with others. My hope with my artmaking practice is to share my creativity and create work for people to cherish.

Artmaking as a hobby has several therapeutic benefits and is something that I encourage more people to take up. Draw that stick figure, crochet that quilt or build that 3d model however people choose to make art - no matter how great or small I believe it's worth it.
